COOLING: The Unseen Climate Challenge

19 May 2023 | 12:45 - 13:45 (UTC +7)

In-person and online | Conference Room 3, UNCC

Cooling is the unseen climate challenge.

For many Asia-Pacific developing nations, the cooling sector is a top driver of electricity demand and emissions. At the same time, rising temperatures and heat stress are negatively impacting populations, economies, and power systems – and further increasing the need for cooling.

This side event will examine the cooling challenge, present the UAE COP28 Presidency Global Cooling Pledge, and highlight best-practice country policies and actions to assess and meet the sustainable cooling challenge.

The side event is open to governments, development agencies, academia, civil society, and other relevant stakeholders from ESCAP member States.
